Clinical Work Sample: Video Critique
(Certification)
(Revised January 2010)

Applicant’s Name: ___________________________________________________________

This form must be completed, and is based on the video clinical work sample you are submitting with your application. Please type or clearly print your responses. You may use additional sheets of paper if you wish. You must answer all questions and only the questions asked on the form regarding the video.

1. What is the work setting of the videoed session (e.g., private office, hospital, home, etc.)?

2. What are the problem areas that you are targeting in this session (e.g., selective attention, working memory, visual processes, etc.)?

3. What are your specific objectives in this session (e.g., what would you like to achieve by the end of the session)?

4. Describe the techniques/skills used in this session (e.g., note taking to compensate for diminished recall). Give your rationale for their use.

5. Were the objectives achieved in this session? How did you determine this?
6. What will the goals be for your next session?

7. What is the long-term expected outcome of treatment for the client? On what do you base this projection?

8. Identify your strengths in this session.

9. Identify your limitations in this session.
